Restaurant Concept

Name :

Sabki Thali

URL :

sabkithali.com/sabkithali.in

Customizable Food Item :

Indian Food Thali

Location

Mumbai, and other locations which demand for authentic Indian Food Thali.

Main target audience

Everyone including from college students to the elder generation, because consumption of thali food style is adopted across almost all the areas of India(Every Indian house has its lunch and dinner in the form of Thali).
However for the sake of this project, I have targeted millennials as the customers of my restaurant .

Cost

Since the target audience for our Restaurant covers a huge chunk of people, the cost will be quite reasonable for a common man to afford, without compromising the quality of food.

Elevator pitch

Sabki Thali is a restaurant for Thali lovers. Thali, the highly customizable dish of India enlights the richness of Indian Food Culture. Hence we decided to give this Thali, a visually customizable platform via our website.

Strategy

Target Audience

The website/app will focus on the following target audiences:
Roles (groups of people with similar goals)

Description for my Non- Indian Friends : (Coursera - Peer Graders)

So Thali is an Indian Dish which comes with many other items in it.
For eg. A simple Veg Thali Consist of :

1) Salad
2) 2 types of cooked Vegetable bhaji .
3) Tortilla/ Rotis/Naan along with those cooked vegetable bhaji.
4) A curry to be eaten with rice (incase of plain rice).
5) An appetizer to ease the digestion process.
6) Desert

These 6 items are as basic as possible. However there are other various addons to Thalis.
My Idea is to bring this customization possible on Online Platform, and so is the project for this course's assignment.
Let me know if you want to get more about the project in the comments. Thank You!

About Us

About The Founder

LEGEND HAS IT that a soup salesman named Boulanger opened the first modern restaurant 250 years ago in Paris. But when one historian went looking for proof, she found things were not so clear.

Back in the 18th century, few city-dwellers had the means for personal kitchens at home. So before a brasserie sprung up on every corner, they ate from communal platters laid out for inn guests or bought oysters and such from street vendors. If they had a little more time and money to spend, they could visit multiple traiteurs (cook caterers) specialized in particular trades or guilds, like roasting meat or baking bread.

Everything changed with Monsieur Boulanger around 1765, at least, according to the bible of French gastronomy, Larousse Gastronomique.

The Place

A restaurant (French: [ʁɛstɔʁɑ̃] (About this soundlisten)), or an eatery, is a business that prepares and serves food and drinks to customers.[1] Meals are generally served and eaten on the premises, but many restaurants also offer take-out and food delivery services. Restaurants vary greatly in appearance and offerings, including a wide variety of cuisines and service models ranging from inexpensive fast food restaurants and cafeterias, to mid-priced family restaurants, to high-priced luxury establishments.

In Western countries, most mid-to high-range restaurants serve alcoholic beverages such as beer and wine. Some restaurants serve all the major meals, such as breakfast, lunch, and dinner (e.g., major fast food chains, diners, hotel restaurants, and airport restaurants). Other restaurants may serve only a single
